The outfield still presented a slightly groggy appearance and was in places rather soft.

This afternoon it was the Newark Club, the Little Giants of the Atlantic League, which the world's champions faced, and the game, in view of the facts that Newark has already defeated Brooklyn this season and of the coming con-tests between the latter Club and the Giants. promised to become an exceedingly interesting withing suits of gray and bine.

The Giants, too, were out in force, but dressed in a conglomeration of colors.

Hatfield was scored for shortstop to-day. It is likely that he and Waggenhurst will alternate in that position until the opening of the League season, when it will be to the advantage of both of these players to have made a good showing.

Dooms and Duffy did the battery work for Newark, while Titcomb and George pitched and Brown caught for the Giants.

The nines were as follows:

Newark took the beid, and reiner Arsand happy in the arrival in Gotham of his wife and baby, eame to bat.

Four bails for luck at the start gave him first base, but his attempt to reach second resulted first in a silp-up and then in an out. O'Rourke, lively as Yanigan, slipped the ball to left field for a single and took second on Slattery's sacrifice grounder to Fields.

Four balls sent Comor to first and brought lichardson to bat. Cart. Danny hit a lively single past short, on which O'Rourke tried and failed to score. No runs.

single past short, on which O'Rourke tried and failed to score. No runs.

This brought Newark to the bat for their first inning.

George pitched a slow one to Johnson, who lifted a preity little fly, which Comor caught. Coogan was content to take first on balls. But uper arriving at the first life he gave rein to ambition and was ignominiously put out at second by California Brown's accurate throw to Richardson. Fields struck out. No runs.

Second Inning—Hattleid made his season's debut by cracking a base hit to left. Whitney followed with a hot grounder, which McDermott fumbled, allowing Hatfield to take second and giving Whitney first.

After George had banged three fouls over the fence, Hatfield made a brilliant steal of third and Whitney possessed himself of the evacuated second. George then went out at first on Smith's assist.

Big Bill Brown boomed a high fly to centre, which was well caught by Mansell; but before the slatter could return the ball Hatfield's alligator hides had covered home plate, and the first run of the game was tailled for the Giants. Foster, minus a goodly portion of his trousers, which were lett in the mud, struck out.

Mansell led off with a preity single to right, but his try to steal second was cut short by Brown's throw to Richardson. McDermott then lifted the ball far away into left centre, and by the time Foster had treed playing football with the horse hide Mac had reached third.

George put on a little more steam, and the next two men went out—Jones on strikes and Smith on a fly to O'Rourke made his second appearance at bat and his second safe hit of the game samultaneously, this time a double between left and centre. Slattery sliently crept to first on balls. Connor sacrificed neatly, advancing O'Rourke to third, and Slattery to second.

Richardson, setting as easer as if engaged in a championship fray, put the boots on the ball for a single and brought home both Sir James and Slattery.

Hatfield followed with his second hit of the game, sending Richardson to third. A passed and Richardson consered a liner from some state. No runs.

Coogan forced a single to centre, but he again tried to purious second, and failed so connect, yields struck out and Connor clinched Fields's foul. No runs.

Fifth Inning—Slattery struck out and Consor created a los of ohe and als side. No runs.

M.Dermott reached first on a sharp hit to the infield and took second when Jones retired on a grounder which Connor fielded. Smith popped up a fly to Whitney. Duffy pleasantly received four balls and consequently first base. A passed ball let McDermott to third, but Jersey hopes of a run were cut short by Dooms striking out. No runs.

A passed ball let McDermott to third, but Jersey hopes of a run were cut short by Dooms striking out. No runs.

Sixth Inning—Miller at this point relieved Dooms in the pitcher's department and proceeded to do up the Giants.

Whitney was the first victim, on a grounder to pitcher. Titcomb, now substituted for George, struck out, and Whitney's grounder was fielded atter a short timsle by Miller. No runs.

Johnson bunted a little one, and in spite of Titcomb's quick endeavor, reached first in safety. He was advanced to second by the four balls which gave Coogan first.

Foster aroused some enthusiasm from the thomand benumbed spectators by making a pretty catch of Field's high fly.

Mansell's scratch hit then filled the bases, and a moment later a passed ball permitted Johnson to score Newark's first run and each of the other two runners to move up a base.

Then McDermott gave rise to a turmoil of excitement by pounding the ball far over Slattery's head in left field, but Slat let on this long legs, overtook the falling sphere, grabbed it in one land and returned it in brilliant style to Richardson at second in time to catch Fields second run. Two runs.

Seventh Inning—Four balls gave Foster first, and O'Rourke's single advanced him to second. Na tery's out at first advanced both runners a base each. Foster scored on Fields's error, which allowed Connor to take first.

O'Kourke came home while McDermott and Fields were vainly trying to catch Connor base onch. Foster scored on Fields's error, which allowed Connor to take first.

O'Kourke came home while McDermott and Fields were vainly trying to catch Connor suggle advanced Roger to third, and on Danny's out at second Connor scored.

Hatfield struck out.

This was a little lesson to the little Giants in base running. Three runs.

Jones's grounder was well fielded by Richardson. Smith got in a baser to left and ran down to second, when Duffy hit safely to the same lines.

Duffy went out, Titcomb to Connor. One run.

HERE IS THE PETITION.

To the Board of Aldermen of New Fork City.

The undersigned, residents of New York and vicinity and admirers of the National game, believing that it is not inconsistent with the majority of private interests involved, and knowing that it is in accordance with the desire and sentiments of the great majority of the public, that the Polo Grounds shall not be rendered unit for basefull playing this season by the grading of One Hundred and Eleventh street through the grounds.

Hereby petition your honorable body that no action providing for the grading of said street through the Polo Grounds shall be taken until after Oct. I next, thereby enabling the Polo Grounds to be used by the New York baseball public and its champion nine this season and affording ample time for the securing of permanent grounds for use in future seasons.

We base this petition purely upon public grounds, in the belief that the interests of the National game in the National metropolis merit the consideration and encouragement of the constituted authorities.

BOSTON BASEBALL GROUNDS, April 4,-The famous Beancaters, who tried hard to capture Johnnie Ward, but couldn't put up money enough to get him, opened the season here today in bang-up style.

The day being Fast Day, which, with the asthetic residents of the Hub is also observed as a great holiday, was selected for the occasion with an eye to a good attendance, and in this respect the management has no reason to be disappointed.

There were fully five thousand spectators on the grounds, and they were full of enthusiasm and holiday spirits, and seemed to take to the sport just as naturally as if the last game had been played there yesterday, instead of nearly ox months ago.

All the old players were recognized as they and the on payers were recognized as they made their appearance in the field, and hearty rounds of appliause, calls and cheers greeted Morrill, Kelly, the prize beauty; Clarkson, Brouthers, Bennett and Ganzel as soon as they got near enough to the crowd to be recognized.

soon as they got near enough to the crowd to be recognized.

The ex-Detroiters made a fine showing and the crowd seemed to wake up to the fact that the flut had now got a great nine, and it did all it could to make the new-comers feel at home.

Two games had been announced for the afternoon between two picked nines representing the League team and enough well-seasoned outsiders in addition to make up the full quota.

The first of these games was called at 2 oclock, and the players were arranged in the following batting order:

when Johnston, of the Boston fille, knocked out a single, was advanced on sacrifice hits by Quiun and Sowders, and scored on Madden's wild throw to third base.

The picked nine failed to catch on.

A neat double play by Morrill and Lloyd was a feature of the third inning.

A passed ball and a song-and-day wild throw by kelly in the fourth inning let! Hay, of the picked nine, after that player had made a double to right field. Score was then even. Sowders made a brilliant throw to first in the first half of the fifth inning. It was the only feature of that inning.

Morrill received an ovation when he came to the bat in the sixth inning. It was the third time he had been so honored. It showed that the Bostonians were with him. His reception was more cordial than Kelly's.

A moment later, when John went down to second on Kelly's wild throw, the spectators howled at Mike like madmen and there were a few hisses. Mike has been talking too much through the newspapers all Winter.

Morrill's picked nine scored two runs in the sixth inning on Morrill's base on balls. Bennett's base on balls. Madden's hit and Kelly's passed ball. Thus far Morrill's nine was in the ascendancy and the only Mike was sad.

Richardson opened the last half of the sixth with a two-bagger and was advanced to third on Brouthers's sacrifice sent Bichardson over the home plate and Nash fouled ont to Bennett and Morrill's nine was and Nash fouled ont to Bennett and Morrill's nad and Nash fouled ont to Bennett and Morrill's nad Nash fouled ont to Bennett and Morrill

The second game was begun with Sowders and Ganzel as the battery for Boston and Clarkson and Lloyd for Morrill's nine. The batting order was as follows inning of the second game, on a single by Morrell and Bennett's cracking liner to centre field. Sharp fielding on both sides prevented any more runs on either side up to the fifth inning. Sowders struck out three men in succession in the fifth inning.

Relly's nine had yet to score a run, and it looked as if Morrill's men were in for thrashing them a second time in one day; but Quion got his base on balls, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Morrill's mult of Radbourn's fiy. The score was thus tied.

Morrill set the crowd wild by opening the sixth inning with a home run over left field fence, sending his nine once more to the front. Kelly opened for his nine in the last haif of the sixth with a two-bagger.

The spectators screeched.

He score was tied again.

Johnston flew out to Doyle, but Nash scored before the ball could be returned, and Kelly's nine won by the score of 8 to 2.

At last the Fire Marshal struck a clue. He learned that a celebrated Anarchist named Bernard Nauman had left Chicago.

"AN ARISTOCRATIC LOBBYIST." Mr. Gerry Is So Characterized in a Bebate on the Street Through Bloomingdale

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 ALEANY, April 4. - By a vote of 77 to 33, the Assembly passed the bill ordering the opening of the streets through the Bloomingdale Asylum grounds in 1897.
The debate on the bill brought out from Mr.

Connelly a vigorous attack upon the Blooming.

dale Asylum and upon Elbridge T. Gerry.
The Assemblyman declared that Mr. Gerry was an aristocratic lobbyist who had altogether too much influence upon legislation.
Mr. Connolly's remarks were caused by Mr.
Crosby's asyling that the bill was a direct slap at the asylum and its management. A Boston Man Sulcides in London. INY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.

London, April 4. - A gentleman, who registered as Charles Sydney Hurd, of Boston, was found dead in his room in a hotel here this morning. He had taken an overdose of chloral. He was penniless. From papers found upon him, it is supposed he was a minister of the Unitarian denomination.
